

Loki .

February 1, 2014 - May 20, 2026

In the spring of 2014, Loki completed our family. A rambunctious puppy, he grew into a goofy but vigilant guard dog. Just like the human children in our family, Loki loved the water. Diving for toys in the pool was fun, but even more fun was fetching 5-foot long sticks in the creek. Loki grew up with our kids; from the wild days where there were constant running feet around the house, to his geriatric days chilling with the adults and teenager in the house, his loyalty never wavered. He followed closely in my footsteps until the day he couldn't anymore. Rest easy, Loki. You are a good boy.
