

Macy -

November 20, 2010 - March 1, 2021

A letter from Macy to her "Mommy" Mommy....You gave me so much love and such a good life. You were all I ever wanted, and everything I ever needed. My love for you was unconditional, and I gave you all I had to give. When I was touching you, sleeping with you, or just looking at you, my world was perfect; you never complained. Thank you for your unconditional love, your kind patience, and the wonderful life you gave me. You truly were my world; you were my faithful companion. On my darkest night and in my darkest hour, when I really needed you most, you were there to comfort me through it. You never left me alone, you never left my side. I knew you were there with me. Thank you for being strong for me when I wasn't able to any more. I am in peace now, waiting for you here at the rainbow bridge so we can cross it together. And here, I will run and play like I use to while I wait to see you again; just like I waited to see you every day. You are forever in my heart, I was so lucky to have you..... I love you so much. .... see you soon Mommy, Your little best friend, Macy
